MAR POY THINKS LAWS ARE UNFAIR

Chinaman Wails in County Jail and Denies He Stole Stranger's Watch.

Great is the misfortune of Mar Poy, a Chinaman with almond eyes and a taking disposition, and loud are the wails which he sends through the bars of the Henrico County Jail. Mar Poy is in the clutches of the law, which clutch appears likely to tighten into a strangle hold in imitation of the hold Mar Poy took on a gold watch, the property of a stranger.

"Me no like Melican land," he wails, plaintively from behind the bars yesterday afternoon. "Me find watch, all same get lock up."

However, various authorities, with a paying turn of mind, after with Mar Poy in regard to the way the gold watch came into his possession. Chief among these is C. L. Beadles, a Hanover county magistrate, who drove up to the Henrico jail yesterday with Mar Poy in his care. Beadles has reason to believe that the watch and heavy gold chain once decorated the vest of a main American, being removed upon arrest of the Chinaman. The Hanover magistrate is pursuing his inquiries in this direction. Mar Poy will continue to meditate on the misfortunes of a stranger in a strange land from his cell in the Henrico jail.

Mar Poy came to get specifically because of delicate attentions which he is alleged to have thrust upon several young girls of the Polo Green neighborhood. Beadles called it assault and arrested the Chinaman on that serious charge.

"Me no hurt girls," wailed Mar Poy yesterday. "Me better, all same get lock up."

In spite of the prisoner's protestations that he merely wished to be polite, Beadles insists that Mar Poy made himself offensive to the young women, and will press this charge against him. The ownership of the watch and gold chain will be further investigated. The crowning charge against the almond-eyed Chinaman is desertion from a vessel now believed to be docked in Norfolk. Beadles says there is a reward of $25 offered by the captain of the ship for the arrest of the deserter, Mar Poy.

MAKES OVER-SEA AIR TRIP

Zeppelin Dirigible Victoria Louise Carries 12 Passengers 4 Hours.

Hamburg, Germany, June 27.—The Zeppelin dirigible Victoria Louise, made a nine-hour over-sea trip with twelve passengers aboard today. The monster airship left here at 8:15 this morning, returning at 3:30 o'clock. Starting the trip she flew directly out from this city over the North Sea.

It is stated in some quarters that the purpose of the trip is to demonstrate that an airship could be used in a possible, as the vessel's speed of forty-five miles an hour and its full-carrying capacity gives a radius as wide as London from Hamburg and as far as Bristol from Emden.

The Victoria Louise passed over the Island of Heligoland at 4:15 o'clock.

CIT BANKS PAY BIG DIVIDENDS

Stockholders to Receive More Than $700,000 in Profits on July 1.

TOTAL EXCEEDS $1,000,000

Earnings of Richmond Corporations for Past Six Months Show Heavy Gains.

Earnings of Richmond's bank, insurance, trust and industrial corporations for the six months ending July 1 will total more than $1,000,000. Nearly five per cent are available in the list of banks several continue the practice of putting the dividends to the credit of undivided profits, and will make no payments to the stockholders on July 1. This is true notwithstanding the case of the newer institutions.

Fifteen of the city's eighteen banks will mail checks to their stockholders in the sum of $292,050, representing the dividends for the past six months. Compared with this amount, the local banks paid out in dividends six months ago the sum of $200,000, a gain for the last period of $92,050. The gain is due in part to increased dividends on the same capital stock, and to regular dividends on an increased capitalization.

Some Notable Increases.

Two banks, the National Bank of Virginia and the Main Street Bank, increase their semi-annual dividend, the first named from 3 to 3 1/2 per cent, and the second from 2 to 2 1/2 per cent. In addition to an increase in the size of the dividend, the Main Street Bank shows, since the last report, an increase in capitalization of $68,850 upon which the augmented dividend is paid.

The American National Bank reports an increase in its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000. While the same quarterly dividend of 2 per cent will be paid, there will be an absolute increase of $8,000 in the amount paid to stockholders, due to the increase in capitalization.

The Virginia Fire and Marine Insurance Company declares its regular semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent on its capital stock of $1,000,000; and the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company disburses the sum of $350,000, representing the usual quarterly dividend on its $15,000,000 of preferred stock.

DELINQUENT LIST IS RATHER LARGE

Many Corporations Have Failed to Pay Federal Excise Tax.

With two more days of grace remaining within which to pay the Federal excise and corporation taxes, the office of the local revenue collector announced yesterday that more than 150 Virginia corporations and a far larger number of dealers in commodities requiring the payment of a special Federal tax are on the delinquent list.

"For the past day or two," said Deputy Collector J. Robert Wade, "our office has been swamped with work in handling the remittances which come in by mail, and issuing receipts to dealers who came to pay their special taxes in person. We expected this delinquent list—there are a number of corporations and dealers who always put off to the last minute the payment of their taxes—and are doing our best to handle the heavy receipts. Unless a large number of distillers, retailers, dealers in oleomargarine and other products requiring a special Federal excise tax pay up by Saturday they will be put on the delinquent list and proceed against by the collection attorney. In the case of the corporation tax, all delinquents are automatically assessed 50 per cent of the regular 2 per cent tax as a fine, and the penalty is increased at the rate of 1 per cent per month for further delay in payment.

One reason for the large number of delinquents in the special tax division, it was explained, is the fact that the time for payment was this year shortened by thirty days. The department has hitherto permitted payments to be made as late as July 31, without imposing a fine. This year returns must be paid by the last day of June. Since the last day of the current month falls on Sunday, all taxes will have to be paid up by 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when the fiscal year officially ends.

CITY GRANTED APPEAL IN SOUTH RICHMOND LITIGATION

The Supreme Court yesterday granted an appeal to the city of Richmond from the decision of the Hustings Court, Part 2, of Richmond, in reference to the condemnation proceedings against the city of Richmond, the suit styled the City of Richmond vs. T. C. Williams, Jr., et al.

The condemnation committee rendered a report allowing the Allegheny Box Company, lessee of the condemned property, $63,000 damages in addition to the amount allowed by the Hustings Court, for the property. The exception taken by Assistant City Attorney Geo. W. Anderson, was overruled by the judge.

Why Not Get Your Money

Clerk E. M. Rowell, of the Circuit Court of Richmond, has on hand the money to pay to the jury of the last term of court, and requests that the takers call at his office for the amounts due them. So far none of the jurors has called for his share, and the clerk is itching to get rid of the money.

NOTED AGAINST SIDEWALK PLAN

Subcommittee on Streets Opposes Movement to Widen Them on Broad Street.

COST REGARDED AS HEAVY

Merchants, However, Prepared to Carry Fight Before Full Committee.

The Subcommittee on Streets voted unanimously yesterday afternoon to report adversely the proposition to widen the sidewalks on Broad Street for a distance of seven blocks west of Tenth. The action followed a lengthy hearing, during which speeches were made for and against the measure by a large number of interested citizens. The motion to report unfavorably was made by Councilman E. H. Ferguson, of Lee, and was adopted without a dissenting vote.

W. R. Schmidt, a Broad Street property owner, led the fight for the proposed widening, and presented a number of business men who favored the scheme. He stated after the meeting that he had by no means given up the fight, but would take it before the full committee, which meets to-night.

Say Walks Are Wide Enough.

The opposition took the stand that the sidewalks on Broad Street are as wide and wider than those of the big business thoroughfares of the country—considerably wider than the sidewalks of Broadway, New York. To widen the walks seven feet on each side of the street, as proposed, it was objected, would effect an undesirable narrowing of the roadway and would lead to a congestion of traffic. In addition, it was urged, the plan would commit the city to an endless scheme of widening the sidewalks the entire length of Broad Street, and plunge it into bankruptcy.

City Engineer Bolling produced a drawing of a cross section of Broad Street showing the location of subterranean pipes and conduits. A rough estimate of the expense, he said, convinced him that the widening of the sidewalks along the seven blocks under consideration could not be effected at a cost of less than $2,000. Approximately $5,000 of this amount, he admitted, would be offset by a saving arising from the difference in cost between granolithic sidewalk paving and the smooth paving which could have to be placed upon the strip in accordance with the contract recently awarded.

The proposition, said Mr. Bolling, would involve the moving of every water basin, water stop-cock, and gas and electric connection along the route. It would also make necessary the moving of every ornamental light pole. The new strip of sidewalk which would be added, he thought, would give the walk an unsightly patchwork appearance.

AMONG THE SPEEDERS

John Akin Branch, Who Was Fined $100, Takes an Appeal.

John Akin Branch was fined $100 in the Hustings Court yesterday morning for running his automobile, No. 121, faster than allowed by ordinance. Frederick Scott Campbell, who was with Branch, when he was arrested, went on his bond, when he noted an appeal to the Hustings Court.

Branch was arrested by Motorcycle Officer C. B. Samuels, and was charged with exceeding the speed limit along Monument Avenue and the Boulevard. He was taken into custody until after the car reached the Country Club. He explained to the policeman that he was in a hurry to keep a business engagement. Samuels testified that the car was running at the rate of forty miles an hour.

The committee will appear at the meeting at the instance of the Richmond Public Schools.

PERMIT ISSUED FOR WAREHOUSE

Merchants' Cold Storage Company to Build Structure Costing $125,000.

The Merchants' Cold Storage and Ice Manufacturing Company was granted a permit yesterday by Building Inspector H. P. Beck to erect a five-story concrete and brick cold storage warehouse on the east side of Fifth Street, between Canal and Byrd. The cost of the structure will be $125,000. A permit was issued to Mrs. Carrie Schwartz to build a two-story attached brick dwelling, to be divided into flats, on the south side of Park Avenue, between Robinson and Mulberry streets, at a cost of $10,305.

Other permits were issued as follows:

W. P. Pollard, to erect two two-story frame tenements at 1213 and 1215 1-2 North Twentieth Street, both to cost $3,000.

Stephen A. Ellison & Company, to construct a one-story open frame shed, to be used for wood storage, at Seventh and Dock Streets, at the cost of $200.

O. D. Brinsler, to build a two-story frame tenement, two dwellings, to cost $3,000, at 111 and 113 East Thirtieth Street, between Ward and M. J. Moore, to repair a frame dwelling at 422 Cowardin Avenue, at a cost of $500.

Hotel Richmond Corporation, to install repairs upon the Hotel Richmond on the north side of Grace Street, to cost $2,000.

C. E. Tucker, to repair the frame store and dwelling at 1218 North Twenty-second Street, at a cost of $250.

H. W. Rountree, to repair the frame dwelling at 212 North Twentieth Street, at a cost of $300.

Men Who Enticed Young Girls to Houseboat Released on Heavy Bond.

Joseph Gionotti, W. A. Butterworth and Charles Gullett were in the Police Court yesterday morning charged with serious offenses against Minnie Bryant, a colored fifteen-year-old girl, aged thirteen, and Grace Nethery, aged twelve. The men are charged with enticing the children to a lighter in the river below the city. The case was continued to July 13.

Gionotti was held in the sum of $1,500 on three charges, in each of which one of the three girls is made the defendant. Butterworth gave a bond of $2,000 for an alleged offense against the Sternsfort girl, while Gullett, who failed to obtain bail, is held to answer to a criminal case against Grace Nethery.

The case has created a great deal of indignation, especially among the juvenile workers, and it was said yesterday that it would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Though no evidence was taken in the Police Court yesterday, it appears that the children went to the lighter with the men, one of whom—Butterworth—teaches the girls to swim, and that they are nearly all by years of age, of their own accord, but the prosecution will seek conviction on the grounds that two of the girls are under fourteen years of age.

R. L. Jones was fined $10 and placed under security of $100 for thirty days on the charge of assaulting and beating Percy Smith.

Corra Averill, colored, was fined $500 and put under bond of $100 for one year for shooting at Frances Elliot.

Pat Shelton, colored, was fined $10 for cruelly working and torturing a horse. He took an appeal.

WEDNESDAY CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

Standing Committees Appointed and Plans Discussed by Board of Governors.

The newly elected board of governors of the Wednesday Club met last night in the Jefferson Hotel for the purpose of organization. The principal business was the election of G. W. Greener as secretary and treasurer and the appointment of the committee.

While not taken up formally, the question of the midwinter oratorio concert was discussed. There was uniformity of opinion among the board members that the rendition of the oratorio, "Messiah," next winter by the Wednesday Club chorus, the Richmond Philharmonic Orchestra and a few stars would supply a public demand for such music.

The actual plans for this concert will be worked out in detail during the summer by the music committee. This committee will not only select the oratorio to be sung, but will have practical control of the details of the concert.

Not satisfied with the tremendous chorus of 300 voices last year, the board of governors is making preparations to increase the chorus to the 500 mark if possible. A committee on the chorus was appointed, and these men will make such an effort as has never been seen before to enlist a chorus of the size desired. An early beginning of training is among the innovations planned by the board.

The following committees were appointed:

The Executive Committee—J. G. Corey, chairman; H. T. Meloney, vice-chairman; George W. Stevens, Norman Call, M. T. Spicer.

Committee—Norman Call, chairman; Arthur Kirtner, M. T. Spicer, G. Jeter Jones, Walter C. Mercer.

Chorus Membership Committee—J. Scott Parrish, chairman; Benjamin Brockenbrough, R. F. Banks.

The Hall Committee—Way H. Gordon, chairman; Moses Thalheimer, A. Netherwood.

W. S. Jackson and W. S. Henning were appointed librarians of the Wednesday Club.
